

"Look Who's Here"---Bickel, Watson and Irene Franklin

Poli's Opens Tomorrow With a New Musical Comedy—Keith's Presents Irene Franklin and Toots Paka's Hawaiian Musicians—Lou Tellegen, Emmy Wehlen and Lina Cavalieri Give a Hyphenated Aspect to the Films. Labor Day Will Be Wept In At Performances of "The Eternal Magdalene" and "Ramona."

As surely as Labor Day appears on the horizon, the official theatrical season begins. It is then that the chronic theatergoer sets to work in earnest and begins ordering various theatrical publications to keep in touch with the stage in New York.

This year Labor Day will start off bravely and warmly with two real "drammers" for those who enjoy weeping in public places. At the Belasco will be a film version of "Ramona"—and who has not cried over the pathos of the well-known story? The same week will see "The Eternal Magdalene" at Poli's, with no less a star than Eugenie Blair.

Tomorrow the year starts off joyfully at the Avenue playhouse with Bickel and Watson in "Look Who's Here," the first musical comedy of the season.

For lovers of the films there will be unusual interest in "The Victory of Conscience" at Loew's Columbia because it marks the first appearance in months of Lou Tellegen, who has already acquired the title of "Gerry Farrar's husband, you know." Mr. Lasky is so proud of the picture that he wrote a special letter to the Columbia telling all about it.

Lina Cavalieri appears at Strand in a film called "The Shadow of Her Past," which an ingenious press agent declares tells the story of Mme. Cavalieri's own life.

As for Keith's—Irene Franklin will speak and sing for herself there. She is going into the "legitimate" in a month or two, and this may be her last local vaudeville appearance for some time.

The Casino is to be reopened as a film theater, and Washington will have a chance to see "The Fall of a Nation," "The Battle Cry of War," and other photodramatic spectacles at popular prices.

Poli's: Bickel and Watson in "Look Who's Here."

Bickel and Watson, the well known comedians, will appear in "Look Who's Here," a brand new offering, to inaugurate the opening of Poli's under a new policy tomorrow.

George Bickel, the comedian with the funny German dialect, will be remembered by those who saw the Polies a couple of years ago, and Harry B. Watson will be happily recalled as the "tramp comedian" in various big musical shows that have visited this city.

They are said to be funnier than ever.

most noted dancer of the hula hula to be found in Hawaii. She is assisted in her picturesque and colorful dance by a troupe of native Kanakas.

Another special stellar inclusion will be Hugh Herbert, the popular comedian-author, who will give the premiere of another comedy, "The Prediction," said to be funnier than his previous hits. Added to the head line array also are Ethel Kirk and Billy Fogarty, joining in "Bright Bits of Variety."

Other attractions will be William and Margaret Cutty, the Musical Comedy; the Belclair brothers, looping the loop to a hand to hand stand; Burley and Burley as "The Duke and the Scot," Dupree and Dupree, the champion cycle and bicycle tricksters; the pipe organ recitals and the Pathe news pictorial.

Gayety: Golden Crook Company, With Billy Arlington, Burlesque. BILLY ARLINGTON, famous in the world of burlesque, will be the attraction at the Gayety for the second week of the new season. The managers have staked nothing in giving an adequate acting and costuming for a clever play, with a number of catchy songs.

The cast of principals and the twenty-eight members of the girl chorus have been carefully selected. Billy Arlington's tramp characters are well known. Others in the cast are Frank Dobson, a comedian whose methods are entirely different from Arlington's, but scarcely less funny; Eleanor Cochran, Hite and Reflow, dancers, and the Pathe trio.

Where To Go Today

A visualisation of "The Hawaiian Islands" is the main feature of a second Howe travel festival, to be shown at Poli's Theater this evening.

Portion of the film covers the trip into the volcano at Kilauea.

Still another pictorial excursion will take the audience through the fjords of Norway, and shows thousands of reindeer gathering on the shore, plunging in the water, and swimming to the other side.

A series of Spanish pictures shows scenes in the Pyrenees and along the shores of the Mediterranean, including views of the historic structures erected by Romans, Goths, and Moors.

A film showing every phase of life at West Point brings the setting back to America again. Photographs of games and of birds and animals in natural colorings complete the entertainment.

Lou Tellegen in "The Victory of Conscience" is the feature film at Loew's Columbia today.

The "Three in One" show today at the Garden Theater will include Emmy Wehlen in Channing Pollock and Rex, and Dolly Meeden, prima donna.

Rosemary Theby and Harry, in "The Tormented Husband," and Bud Fisher's famous cartoon characters, Mutt and Jeff, in the animated comedy "In Disguise."

The program will include appropriate musical accompaniments by the Garden Symphony Orchestra.

Lina Cavalieri is billed at the Strand Theater today in a realistic screen drama of the Italian art world, "The Shadow of Her Past."

The comedy portion of the program will include the camera comedienne, Ivy Close in a merry film play, "The Stolen Jail," and animated comedies by Powers, Swinerton, and Herriman.

The Strand Symphony Orchestra will give musical accompaniment.

At 3 and 5:15 p. m. today, at the P. F. Keith Theater, the bill will offer Gus Edwards, George, Cuddles, and the sweet sixteen girls, Emmet de Vay and company, Laurie and Bronson, Tom Edwards, and Alice Melville, and all the other popular features of last week's bill.

Free Concert and Film Program at Glen Echo

Free concerts by Minster's Military Band and a program of first-time motion picture films, also free, will be the special features on the bill at Glen Echo Park for the thousands of folks who, whenever the weather is conducive to out of door amusement, spend a part of their Sundays at the resort.

Two concerts in the afternoon and two this evening with programs of unusual merit will be given under the direction of Sol Minster.

There is every indication that the closing two weeks of the season will be the busiest of the summer. The attendance is constantly increasing, all of the varied amusement devices are running and the brand new movies and other features are in evidence daily.

Plans have all been completed for the big celebration of Labor Day. They will include all of the features that have made this one of the gala days of the season in past years, starting early in the morning and lasting until nearly midnight.

Arrangements have been made for an augmented orchestra for the dance pavilion.

In the meantime Glen Echo will cater to its thousands of patrons every day. Outing parties are scheduled daily and the picnic tables, swings and playgrounds are at the disposal at all times of the private picnic parties.

All of the attractions are on the daily program. The racing derby, the best ride the park world knows, the coaster, with its trip around the top of the trees, the midway, where a miniature park is housed, the ever popular carousel and all of the other amusement devices will help to make the time fly for visitors at the park and make them sorry the end of the season is approaching.

June Jannin As "Luana."

The part of Luana in "The Bird of Paradise" will this year be played by a young actress, June Jannin. "Luana" has already been popular in bringing Broadway renown to four actresses, Laurette Taylor, Bessie Barriscale, Lenore Ulrich and Carlotta Monterey.

Marshall Hall Dress Ball Is Postponed

The annual tournament and dress ball, which was to have been held at Marshall hall on August 18 and was postponed on account of inclement weather, is announced for Wednesday of this week.

The cash prizes for the tournament have been increased, in the meantime, to $150 in gold. Tilted for the prizes will commence at noon, and at 8 o'clock in the evening the queen will be crowned and the awards distributed. It is required that all knights ride in fancy costume.

In the afternoon Jackson H. Ralston will be the orator and in the evening Congress Sidney E. Mudd will speak.

Music for the incidental concerts during the day and for the ball in the evening will be furnished by Schroeder's band. The steamship Charles Macalester will make three trips to Marshall Hall during the day, leaving the Seventh street wharf at 10 a. m., 2:30, and 4:30 p. m., stopping at Alexandria each time.

"Robinson Crusoe, Jr."

One of the early October attractions at the Belasco Theater will be the Winter Garden production, "Robinson Crusoe, Jr.," in which Al Johnson is the star. The supporting company will include Lawrence D'O'Connell, Claude Fleming, Frank Carter, Barry Lupino, Bowers, Walters, and Crocker.

Frank Grace, Johnnie Barker, Kitty Doner, Mabel Withee, Isabel Rodriguez, Rae Hartley, Gertrude Latchford, May Poth, Frank Holmes, Lee Phelps, Alexandra Dagmar, Bert Dunlap, Clint Russell, George Thornton, Miss Lolla Heller, Alice Humphries, Eleanor Ryley, and others.
